

RESTRAINING ORDER

I thought that things would stay the same
I thought that things would never change
When I fell in love that is no lie
You make my heart go pitter pat
You know that you are just all that
And I saw the same thing in your eyes
When I am without you takes my oxygen away
I just want to be by your side every minute of every day.....

Now there's something between us I don't understand
Something between us signed by your hand
Something between us and that something's got a name
Restraining order.

Right from the start things started well,
We'd meet for lunch every day at 12.
You'd see me outside and disappear
You'd catch a sprint back down the hall
Or just do the "drop and crawl"
Lovers' hide and seek sure did spice it up my dear.
Then you quit your job so I camped out in your yard.
You just called the cops and you said I'd gone too far

Now there's something between us making this love hard
Now there's something between us it's about a 100 yards
Now there's something between us let's call it by its name
Restraining order.

That pricey paper's still on file
But they're just good for a while
In 12 short months by your side is where I'll be.
My pick-up in your rearview
My sweet smile out of the blue
I'll read your mail and borrow your house key
I bought me a wedding dress, I'll be your bride in white
We'll get to know each other better on our wedding night
